Item 1. Introduction

wealthMD Corporation (“wealthMD”) is an investment adviser registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. Investment advisory and brokerage services and fees differ; therefore, it is important for you to understand the differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals (also referred to as Investment Adviser Representatives; “IARs”) at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about investment advisers, broker-dealers, and investing.

Item 2. Relationships and Services

“What investment services and advice can you provide me?”

Description of Services and Monitoring

We provide investment advisory services to retail investors and focus on investment management. For clients to whom we provide investment management services, we offer fee plus transaction accounts, which we monitor as part of an ongoing process. As part of our standard services, each IAR reviews their client accounts regularly and meets with clients at their request. Factors that trigger reviews include changes to our investment recommendations, changes in market conditions, and changes to your financial situation and/or investment needs.

Investment Authority

wealthMD offers our investment management accounts on a discretionary basis. Discretionary investment management allows us the limited authority to buy and sell investments in your account without asking you each time a transaction is placed. Our level of authority is determined at the beginning of our relationship with you in our advisory agreement but can be changed upon request.

Investment Offerings

While we can advise on any investment asset, our investment recommendations are primarily related to investments in mutual funds and exchange traded funds (“ETFs”). We do not impose a minimum portfolio size or a minimum annual fee as a condition for starting and maintaining a relationship..

Additional Information

For additional information, please see our ADV Part 2A (with special emphasis on Items 4, 7, and 16 of Part 2A).

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

Item 3. Fees, Costs, Conflicts, and Standard of Conduct

“What fees will I pay?”

wealthMD’s fees are based on the type(s) of service(s) we provide.

For investment management, we charge an ongoing investment-based fee at the end of each quarter. The fee is charged as a percentage of your investments that we manage. The more investments there are in your advisory account, the more you will pay in fees, and we may therefore have an incentive to encourage you to increase the investments in your account.

Other Fees and Costs: Some investments, such as mutual funds and ETFs, impose additional fees that will reduce the value of your investments over time. Those fees may include fund expenses and/or surrender charges. You may also pay other fees to the custodian of your investments. These include, but may not be limited to, ticket charges on transactions, fees for wire transfers, stop payments, IRA maintenance, duplicate check or statement copies, overnight deliveries, returned checks, and investment transfers.

Additional Information: You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce the amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. More detailed information about our fees and costs are included in our ADV Part 2A (Items 5.A., B., C., and D).

“What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser?”

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

Our custodian for retail investors provides certain platform services, without charge, for maintaining client assets with them. The receipt of such economic benefits by us in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence our choice of a particular custodian for custody and brokerage services. To address these potential conflicts of interest, we have developed and implemented a Compliance Program, which includes a review of the services and execution quality we receive from the custodian we recommend. Additionally, our employees may invest for their own accounts or have a financial interest in the same securities or other investments that they also recommend, acquire or sell for the accounts of clients. In addition, your IAR may engage in transactions that are the same as, or different than, transactions recommended to or made for your account(s). This practice could create a conflict of interest if the IARs placing trades for their own accounts were to place a trade before our clients and receive a better price on a security. To address this potential conflict, employee transactions are tracked and only permitted if in compliance with our Policy on Personal Securities Transactions.

These arrangements and additional information about other conflicts of interest are discussed in more detail in our ADV Part 2A.

“How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?”

We only generate revenues from our investment management and financial planning services as described above.

Conversation Starter*

- How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

“How do your financial professionals make money?”

Our IARs are compensated through salaries and/or a portion of revenue we receive for the advisory services we provide. The portion paid to your IAR generally does not vary based on the type of investments that are recommended. Additionally, as an independently owned investment adviser, our owner receives compensation based on the revenues generated by our firm for its advisory services.

Item 4. Disciplinary History

“Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?”

No – Neither the Firm nor any of our IARs have a disciplinary history. We invite you to visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research our Firm and IARs. investor.gov/CRS
